

The Benefits of LMCI Membership

No one has to be told that we face one of the most competitive environments in decades for new business and contracts. That's why the Painters and Allied Trades Labor Management Cooperation Initiative (LMCI) is reminding all of our industry partners to use the programs we offer to give you the winning edge you need in this economy.

Programs such as the LMCI Supervisor Training Programs (STP) I & II. Well-trained IUPAT foremen are crucial to a job coming in on time and on budget, and STP gives your employees the business and leadership skills to maintain a profitable bottom line on a project. That puts you and your employers in the position to win more jobs.

The LMCI also arranges venues for its industry partners to meet and discuss the issues we face in our industries. This year, in addition to the Fifth Annual Finishing Industries Forum in Las Vegas, the LMCI has scheduled Regional Roundtables for Western Canada in Edmonton, Alberta, on September 11, and for the Western United States in Seattle, Washington, on July 14. These meetings bring labor and management together to address issues openly and develop solutions beneficial to all.

Want to learn more about what the LMCI can do for you? Find us at industry trade shows, where we put the best and brightest in our crafts on display in live demonstrations. We show the world the difference union training makes in a trade. At the same time, we make certain we're meeting with suppliers and manufacturers to remain ahead of the curve on new products entering our industries.

There's plenty more to know about the LMCI and how it can help you build a better business. Contact us today!

WWW.LMCI.ONLINE.ORG OR 1-888-934-6474

The Painters and Allied Trades LMCI Supervisory Training Program (STP) gives employees the business and leadership skills to maintain a profitable bottom line.

